Two Billion Living Cost On Subsidy

Meat, Butter, Coffee Programs Will Cost About $400,000,000 Annually

Few Details Plan Was Discussed by Administration for Over a Year

(By The Associated Press)
Washington, May 8 (AP)—A two-billion-dollar-a-year federal program for subsidizing the American cost of living was reported authoritatively today to be under consideration in high administration quarters.

The report followed yesterday's official announcement that meat, coffee and butter subsidies will be swung in to support price ceilings in the nation's stabilization fight on June 1.

Those subsidies will cost approximately $400,000,000 a year, according to unofficial estimates. The $2,000,000,000 program reported under study was said to include plans for subsidizing canned fruits and vegetables, and a long list of other foods—but nothing except foods.

The first program, announced by Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown, is aimed to force a 10 per cent cut June 1 in the retail cost of beef, veal, pork, lamb, mutton, coffee and butter. It will be financed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, through one of its subsidiaries. Flat payments of a cent or more per pound will be made to meat packers, butter manufacturers, and coffee companies for their products, on condition that they cut their prices according to the program.

In adopting this plan, the government rejected a proposal to buy direct from producers and resell at a loss to processors.

Despite the "conditional" implication that the program might operate on an optional basis, the unofficial consensus was that it would be compulsory throughout.

Few Details Available
With few details of the program yet available, Brown predicted reduction would trim three cents a pound off present prices of beef and veal, four cents a pound of pork, four to five cents a pound of butter, and about three cents a pound of coffee. No estimate was given on lamb and mutton.

The administration has discussed the subsidy possibilities for more than a year, but with few exceptions, little has been done on them up to now—due largely to congressional opposition. That opposition still showed today as some officials and legislators indicated they doubted whether the larger program in prospect would be adopted without specific authority from Congress.

Some state senators who helped defeat price control subsidies months ago said they still opposed the policy as a general proposition, but several, including Senators Russell (D-Ga.) and Bankhead (D-Ala.) said if the farmer could not get higher prices directly they approved of him getting the indirect benefit from subsidies. The latter commented that "the processor subsidy may not give the farmer a higher price but it at least will keep him from getting a lower price."

Most legislators said they believed consumers in general and price-increase protesting coal miners in particular would receive the greatest benefit from the price cuts.

The subsidy statement from O.P.A. paralleled a War Labor Board announcement that it had asked the White House to clarify some points in the President's hold-the-line order against inflation, but that its request was not to be regarded as seeking any change in the little steel wage formula.

Police Auxiliary Gas Masks Ready
Chief of Police Charles Phinney said this morning that the gas masks for the members of the police auxiliary were not ready for distribution at police headquarters in the city hall.

The auxiliary police force, said the chief, now numbers 50 men. He added that all members of the force will at police headquarters as quickly as possible to obtain the gas masks.

May Ease Oil Shortage Here

Expect African Victory to Help Materially

Washington, May 8 (AP)—The smashing Allied triumph in North Africa—a vital stroke in ridding the Mediterranean of Axis resistance—may help to ease this country's oil shortage materially, senators said today.

Even before the fall of Tunis and Bizerte was announced, lawmakers who have made the closest study of the supply and demand for petroleum products foresaw the possibility of an easier gasoline and fuel oil situation in the United States once the Axis is cleaned out of the Mediterranean area.

Senator Maloney (D-Conn.) said army and navy officials had assured him there would be "some relief" in the home oil crisis when the Mediterranean is made safe again for Allied shipping.

In addition to the oil that might move from near eastern sources to the Eastern Mediterranean by tanker, Maloney pointed out that a pipeline rated at 85,000 barrels a day capacity extends from the oil fields along the Persian gulf to the eastern end of the Mediterranean.

Senators Reed (R-Kas.) and Clark (D-Mo.) said whatever amount of petroleum products could be brought in from the Near Eastern refineries would relieve the situation that much at home—unless the next Allied offensive requires even more oil.

Much Defamed Rugged Individualist Will Win

New York, May 8 (AP)—America's "much defamed rugged individualist" will win the war, says former President Herbert Hoover.

Speaking at the Boys' Club of America wartime dinner last night, Hoover declared:

"The war is making it possible to recapture somewhat the American boy. Our boys have already demonstrated their ascendancy for man, over the boys of every enemy country. They are individualists."

Hoover was re-elected chairman of the board and William Edwin Hall of New York, was re-elected president.

William F. Schafer, president of the Boys' Club of Mount Vernon, N. Y., received an award for 35 years of meritorious service and Earle C. Roe, member of the board of directors, Boys' Club of Mount Vernon, N. Y., was honored for 30 years' service.

Most legislators said they believed consumers in general and price-increase protesting coal miners in particular would receive the greatest benefit from the price cuts.

The subsidy statement from O.P.A. paralleled a War Labor Board announcement that it had asked the White House to clarify some points in the President's hold-the-line order against inflation, but that its request was not to be regarded as seeking any change in the little steel wage formula.

Coal Miners Strike in Three States in Defiance Of President's Statements

Threat That Thousands of Other Miners Will Resume Work Stoppage of Last Week-end Unless Operators Sign Contract; Some Miners Return

Pittsburgh, May 8 (AP)—More than 3,500 coal miners in three states were idle today in the face of President Roosevelt's assertion yesterday that since miners now are government employees they are not free to strike.

At the same time a threat that thousands of other miners will resume their work stoppage of last week-end unless operators sign a contract with the United Mine Workers by the end of the 15-day truce came from U. M. W. District 5 in Western Pennsylvania.

Two of the walkouts in Pennsylvania and Ohio were protests against attempts of coal operators to fine employees for taking part in unauthorized strikes prior to the general shutdown last Friday mid-night, when the extended contracts expired.

The third, at the Kind mine near Princeton, Ind., was blamed by Mine Superintendent David Jones on a two-week-old wage dispute. He said 200 men on the night shift failed to report for work last night when they found themselves "docked" for time lost in an April walk-out, which centered about work days lost during mechanical trouble.

Twelve hundred anthracite miners, however, were scheduled to resume work at Glen Lyon, Pa., Monday after a week's idleness, pending negotiation of a local grievance with the Susquehanna Coaleries Company. The U. M. W. did not authorize the walkout.

Under the contracts, operators may fine miners $1 for each day they participate in an unauthorized strike. Thus the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation of Pittsburgh sought to assess employees of its "captive" mines $5 apiece for five days they were out last week. Refusing to pay, 1,400 men at the company's Vesta No. 4 mine near California, Pa., quit work last night.

Similarly, the Hanna Coal Company at St. Clairsville, Ohio, imposed $2 fines, resulting in a walk-out at the Willow Grove mine, one of the largest in Ohio, with about 780 on the payroll.

The soft coal walkouts were the first since the government took over operation of the mines last Saturday. President Roosevelt said at his Washington press conference yesterday that the miners now are definitely government employees. He remarked that in his many years of federal service he could not recall any strike by government employees against the government.

Meanwhile the first specific threat that miners would not work without a contract after their truce expires May 18 was issued by John P. Busarello, president of U. M. W. District 5, which includes about 38,000 of western Pennsylvania's 117,000 bituminous miners.

Busarello said the district board adopted this resolution at Pittsburgh:

"The officers and members of District 5 will carry out the traditional policy of 'no contract, no work,' effective as of midnight May 18, 1943."

Some Return to Mines
Fourteen hundred striking coal miners went back to work today near California, Pa., but 500 men at another Pennsylvania mine quit, leaving more than 2,600 workers in three states still idle.

A spokesman for the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation said workers at its Shamokin mine at Bobtown, Pa., failed to report for the 7 a. m. shift.

Employees of the Vesta No. 4 mine at California—largest of four J. & L. pits—returned to their jobs early today after a meeting last night with District 5 officials of the United Mine Workers.

John P. Busarello, District 5 president, declared he was "glad they're back. I was worried sick about it." The Bobtown mine is in District 4.

The main problem facing Kingston today in the campaign is the signing not only of these eight firms but of the city employees. One of the requirements of a Treasury City is that 90 per cent of all city employees be signed on the pay-roll service plan.

Mayor Belmont states that he is doing everything in his power to see that city employees sign up so that Kingston may take its 300,000 quota.

With the Town of Shawangunk topping its quota by $11, the War Fund Campaign of the Ulster County Chapter American Red Cross stands today at $64,300. Under the leadership of George Crist, the Town of Shawangunk turned in total contributions of $1,871 yesterday to top its quota.

The Town of Esopus submitted an additional amount of $13,018, and various miscellaneous contributions made the increase in the War Fund Campaign drive for the $34,000 county quota.

Allies Achieve Most Magnificent Victory of War

Still Remains Mopping Up to Do in Tunisia; Hitler Forced Back of Crumbling Walls

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

So at long last the Allies have reclaimed the North African shore of the Mediterranean, thereby achieving one of the most magnificent victories the war could offer, for this theater is among the ranking strategic positions of the whole world.

To be sure, there still remains mopping up to do in Tunisia. Weary, shell-shocked German and Italian soldiers—many of their officers having fled to the continent—are holding out in some of the mountain fortifications. Details are lacking, but it's likely that a considerable force may be out on the tip of Cap Bon, hoping against hope that an unfriendly sea will relent and bring them evacuation facilities.

Still, what's left to be done, can be done handsily. The day is ours. This throws Hitler the world-beater back behind the crumbling walls of Europe which he has all but wrecked. The paranoic genius of death and destruction finally is on the defensive, with the enemy pressing him on all sides.

With the all highest's retreat goes Mussolini's empire, for which I Duce sacrificed his honor and stabbed a wounded neighbor in the back. With it, too, goes the Italian dictator's outlying defenses swept, invaded. The bull of Bashan which roared so terrifyingly from the security of Rome now turns out to be a sea-weak which sprays more or less helplessly, waiting for the kill.

Perfect Coordination
The Tunisian victory represents perfect Allied military coordination and timing. That speaks well for the future. It speaks doubly well in that this coordination couldn't have existed without the most friendly cooperation among the Allies in this bloody engagement—the British, the French and the Americans.

As I have pointed out before, the great Rommel and his veteran Africa Corps, along with the seasoned forces of Nazi General Von Arnim, have literally been squeezed into submission. The Allies have maintained a fierce pressure along that mountain front of 120 miles—a feat calling for vast skill and endurance.

Day after day the Allies have hammered at that line in vital sectors, never giving the enemy a moment's rest. Outnumbered in men and equipment, the Axis has had to defend itself at all points without even a breather.

City's Quota for May Is 59 Men Leaving May 19

Kingston's Selective Service Board has been notified that its quota of men for the armed service this month has been fixed at 59 men, two of them colored. This is the smallest quota in some time.

The contingent will leave Kingston Wednesday morning, May 19, for the army induction center in Albany where they will be given physical tests. Those who pass the tests will be inducted into the service at once and granted the usual week's leave of absence before reporting to an army training camp.

Those in the quota who desire either Navy or Marine assignments, will not leave with the men who are inducted into the Army.

The contingent accepted for the Army will leave Kingston Wednesday, May 26.

It is expected that the June quota will be of approximately the same number of men who have been called to fill this month's quota.

Small Raid on London Is Turned Back Quickly

London, May 8 (AP)—A German raid on London in which only three planes were believed to have participated was turned back from the outskirts of the city today after Londoners had undergone a breakfast alarm.

The capital's anti-aircraft defenses brought down an enemy craft 25 miles from London at the mouth of the Thames, and two other Nazi machines were knocked down during night raids over Britain. Another was shot down over northern France.

The German radio said targets in western and southern England were hit in night attacks.

A second daylight raid was destroyed from another group of three planes which crossed the coast during the morning.

Deputy County Clerk H. C. Fingar calls attention to the fact that chauffeurs' licenses expire May 31, and that holders of such licenses will be unable to drive unless they renew before the expiration date. It is suggested that renewals be made early in order to avoid the last minute rush.

War Is Drying Up Mountains; Drop in Moonshine Production

By KIN MCNEIL
Somewhere in Northwest North Carolina, May 8 (AP)—The war is doing what federal alcohol tax unit agents, known heretofore as "revenuers," have been trying to do for a long time: It's drying up the mountains.

You can drive for miles now and never see a moonshiner sitting on a stump beside the road to sell you a hutch of his moonshine.

It was not so before the war. The Chambers of Commerce don't say so, but the range of the Blue Ridge Mountains which skirts northwestern North Carolina and continues on through South Carolina and into Georgia is the reputed and actual center of "honor bootlegging" in the United States. The term "bootlegging" is used to describe all that industry which illicitly distills intoxicating beverages, known variously as moonshine, white lightning, sugarhead and corn.

The federal alcohol tax unit has figures to prove this area the center of bootlegging. The natives have known it all the time. But those who have a yen for moonshine soon may be unable to obtain their favorite brew. The last two years have seen a decrease in bootlegging by at least 30 per cent, according to data released by Frank C. Crow, assistant supervisor of District Five of the federal alcohol tax unit. The district covers North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia, with headquarters in Baltimore.

Americans Can Drive Japs Out Of the Aleutians

While They Wait, Their Presence Breaches the Threat of New Air Raids on Tokyo

Washington, May 8 (AP)—American forces in the North Pacific now are in position to drive the Japanese out of the western Aleutian Islands, authorities here believe, whenever the high command decides the time has come to strike.

And while they wait, their presence on Amchitka Island breaches the constant threat of new air raids down Tokyo's neck.

The Aleutian fight will be bloody, for the Japanese have worked with feverish haste to entrench themselves strongly on Kiska and Attu Islands ever since their invasion last June. But there is no doubt in official quarters here that the job can and will be done when the time—and it might be this month or next—is right.

A Navy announcement yesterday of the establishment of an American base on Amchitka, only 63 nautical miles from Kiska, led to speculation that the blow might fall soon.

The base is now in full use, and presumably strongly defended. American troops moved in unopposed in mid-January. The Navy communique said the movement was kept secret until American positions were fully consolidated. It also told of the establishment of a base on Adak Island in the Andreanofs, 149 nautical miles further east from Kiska than Amchitka.

Army airforces with navy support moved into the Andreanofs last fall and Adak apparently was the base from which Kiska was bombed and strafed during the late fall and winter.

Even with a base so close, officials considered it impossible to bomb the Japanese out of Kiska, and still felt that recapture of the island will require hand-to-hand combat.

Meanwhile, there was speculation that Amchitka might be used for air raids on Tokyo. It is the nearest point to Japan which American forces have thus far attained, but still too far away for more than extremely hazardous attacks.

Gen. Eisenhower at the same time expressed his "delight" over the fall of Tunis and Bizerte but asserted that the fight would go on "as long as there was a single armed German on African soil."

Bradley, regarded as one of the army's best infantry commanders, took over command from Patton when the Americans were transferred from the Maknassy area to the rugged Malakness region of the south.

The reason for the change in command, it was explained, was that the new zone of operations assigned to the Americans made the northern drive essentially an infantry fight.

Lieut. Gen. Patton is an armored fighting specialist and in the south the battle was chiefly by the use of armor.

Eisenhower expressed the highest confidence in both generals. "There was nothing in this part" (Continued on Page 10)

British Battle In Street Against Few Enemy Batteries

By HAROLD V. BOYLE

Bizerte, Tunisia, May 7 (Delayed) (AP)—American tanks were strewn with flowers by the deliciously happy French populace as they rolled in their power through the streets of this seaport stronghold of the Axis today.

Axis "suicide squads" of combat engineers blew up docks and fled across the canal to the Bizerte marshes.

One company of tanks and two companies of tank destroyers swept into this great Mediterranean seaport at 4:15 p. m., five minutes before the British army took Tunis and six months less one day from the time the Americans first landed in Morocco and Algeria.

(Today's Allied Headquarters communique said the British first army entered Tunis at 2:50 p. m. and the Americans entered Bizerte at 4:15 p. m. There was no immediate explanation of the conflict.)

Yankee tankmen up from the south, wheeling through artillery, shells and past long lines of prisoners, won the race for Bizerte by a narrow margin from French infantry pushing in from the western hills.

The cheering French followed them into the battered and ruined city in which the few remaining residents wept in joy and waved fingers high in the sign of victory.

Ten minutes after they took Bizerte, tankmen took flowers off their vehicles to reply to a bombardment from the few German guns still manned in the marshes across the canal.

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Weep Tears of Joy
Tunis, May 7 (Delayed) (AP)—British tanks rolled down through the hilly vineyards into Tunis today and battled from street to street against a few batteries of enemy 88-millimeter guns which fought to the end, but the majority of Nazi troops already were withdrawing toward Cap Bon.

French civilians—men, women, the young and the old—weep tears of joy and brought out jugs of wine for the khaki legion which had advanced 15 miles across the Tunis plain today to exploit their decisive break through of the German defenses.

The famous Red Desert Rat Troop of the Eighth Army combined with the veteran tank force of the First Army to shatter the enemy in a belated vengeance for Dunkerque.

At 5 p. m. I stood by a mud wall of a farm house and crouched down to duck zinging machinegun bullets. From there I watched the initial wave of American-built Sherman tanks dash on Tunis from the suburban heights.

Eisenhower's Statement
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 8 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower disclosed today that Maj. Gen. Omar N. Bradley commanded the victorious drive of the U. S. Second Corps into Bizerte, having taken over from Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., when the Americans were shifted to the north on April 17.

Gen. Eisenhower at the same time expressed his "delight" over the fall of Tunis and Bizerte but asserted that the fight would go on "as long as there was a single armed German on African soil."

Improvement Shown At Band Concert

Each year finds the Kingston High School band improving although a large percentage of its personnel changes. Last evening's concert at the high school auditorium showed young musicians with more command of their music and instruments than ever before exhibited in the band concert. Under the direction of Anthony Messina the sections were molded for tone effects never becoming harsh.

The different sections had the opportunity to perform in Morton Gould's "Pavane" where each takes up the melody. This and the "Deep South Rhapsody" by Isaac and Lilly represented well in the modern classical with provoking rhythms. The first group also included the waltz arrangement of "Friends" featuring Miss Elizabeth Wilson, most competent trombone soloist.

The guest artist, 16-year-old Karl Kohn, truly exhibited the technique of a pianist. His technique was excellent with special notice of his left hand dexterity in the "Jeux de Vieux" by Ravel and again in "St. Francois de Paule" by Liszt. As encores he played "Clair de Lune" by Debussy and "The Fire Dance" by De Falla. For pure entertainment a novelty was presented, acting out the story of "Jack and the Beanstalk" in pantomime with the band providing the sound effects and a narrator relating the story.

Those taking part were Miss Ann Marie Manfro, narrator; Thomas Gorham, giant; William Beecher, attendant; Irving Kotzky, farmer; Stanley Matthews, attendant; Warren Johnson, Jack; Miss Mary Frances Johnson, Jack's mother; John Anderson and John Anderson, Jack's father; Miss Margaret Schaefer and Nathaniel Weinberger assisted with this production.

The most serious number of the program was Saint Sams' "Symphony No. 1 in E Flat Major" which the students performed with understanding and smoothness. The march numbers were done with precision. The band included the "Donkey Serenade" by Friml in the program and played two encores, "Remember the Harbor" and "Anchor's Aweigh."

During the playing of several of the pieces lighting effects were used with the most appropriate one of red, white and blue during the playing of Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever." On the back-draw were hung a large drum painting and a large reproduction of the familiar "Spirit of '76" painting.

Benedictine Auxiliary Hears Reports on Campaign Fund

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital was held at the Nurses' Home, Wednesday, May 6, at 8 p. m. Mrs. John A. Oliver presided.

As is the custom the members spent an hour before the meeting making surgical dressings for the hospital.

Miss Mary Campbell and Mrs. George Moore, co-chairmen of the finance committee reported that a gratifying sum had been obtained as a result of the recent appeal for subscriptions to a fund for the hospital as much as the annual fund had been dispersed with this year. The auxiliary extends its thanks to all who contributed to this fund and also its appreciation to Station WKNY and all who in any way helped to make it a success. Any one who has not as yet sent his contribution may still do so to Sister Bernice at the hospital or to Miss Mary Campbell, 90 St. James street, and any contribution will be greatly appreciated.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

IT USED TO BE CALORIES—NOW IT'S COUPONS

I am inclined to agree with the sentiments of the man who writes me this: "I don't know why I thought it was an improvement over the old days to have the conversation of my wife's friends change from calories to coupons. Of course, I do sympathize with the women who have to do all the figuring—especially a woman like my dear wife, who for all her capabilities never could balance her own check book. But can't you do something—quote a rule, perhaps—which would get the conversation off onto other subjects? Everywhere it's like a phonograph record that's stuck and running around in the same groove."

The encouraging answer to this is that most violent topics very soon run themselves out.

Today's Bride Wears Street Clothes

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be contrary to all laws of etiquette for me to be married in a white, street length dress and have three attendants—who would also be in street length dresses. This is a furiously wedding in case that makes any difference.

Answer: If you mean a short length skirt with a wedding veil, this would not do at all. But with a hat and ordinary hat veil or with flowers in your hair and no veil, a white dress would be quite all right. You could perfectly well have a maid of honor and two bridesmaids in ordinary day clothes of matching design—the bridesmaids' dresses of the same color. I add this because odd clothes would merely suggest three belated guests walking ahead of you, adding confusion instead of decoration.

When An Engagement Has Been Announced

Dear Mrs. Post: On your printed slip called "Announcing the Engagement" the following paragraph appears: "A troublesome convention, which is concerned with the announcement of an engagement, is that correctly the mother, father, sisters, brothers, aunts and cousins of the bridegroom-to-be should go at once to call upon the bride and her family. If they do not live in the same city, the letters should be written. Please explain whether this means that separate letters should be written to the girl and her mother, or only to one and to which one?"

Answer: Such letters should be written to the bride. Perhaps I should also explain that these visits are paid, or letters written, as soon as such members of the family have been told of the engagement. In other words, it does not mean that a public announcement has to be made by the girl's family first before the man's family is expected to pay her some attention by way of welcoming her. (Her family should also make some gesture of welcome to him.)

Are you trying to make plans to be married to a man in the service? If you are, you'll be glad to know that you can get a reprint of Mrs. Post's recent article "Furiously Wedding Details."

Be sure to send a three-cent, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Mrs. Post, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. Y. Leaflets cannot be mailed unless self-addressed envelope bears correct amount of postage.

Permanent Peace

Columns and columns are being written about it. The wisest men in the Allied countries are thinking about it, talking about it, holding meetings, debating, planning, envisioning.

How to have a permanent peace. How to put an end to wars.

That is the great problem and it seems to be extremely difficult to find the answer.

Well, gentlemen, I'll save you time and money. I'll save you traveling expenses, reams of paper, gallons of ink. For I, no expert in economics, politics, statesmanship, psychology or black magic—I, a simple-minded newspaperman—I have the answer.

And that answer has been there ever since the twentieth chapter of the Book of Exodus in the Old Testament was written.

For in that Chapter are contained the Ten Commandments. If we will but live up to them there can never be another war.

Each war, so far conducted, has been caused by the breach of one or more of the ten commandments.

Hitler created strange gods and took the name of the Lord in vain.

He killed. He bore false witness against his neighbor.

He coveted his neighbor's house, his servant, his ox, his ass and everything that was his.

He showed no mercy, he stole, he honored neither father nor mother.

And now that he and his accomplices have violated the commandments, there will be eye for eye, tooth for tooth, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.

Don't you see how easy it is?

Why go to all the trouble of finding a way, when the way is so clear, the road so well marked, the whole thing written out—for centuries, ready for use?

This is my plan, a plan I learned from my father and mother who had it handed down to them, generation by generation.

That's all you need to do, you learned statesmen and scientists.

Utopia is here—Exodus, Chapter XX.

A Mother's Hope Still Lives for the Boy Who Didn't Come Back From the Tokyo Raid

By MARGARET KERNODLE
AP Features Writer

Washington—"Chins up, Mother!" wrote a six-foot-four Carolina boy before he flew to bomb Tokyo. Time and again his letters challenged his mother's courage, and she keeps those letters for courage this Mother's Day.

It's been more than a year since Mrs. Jessie S. Farrow, a Washington wartime stenographer, heard from her son, Lt. William Farrow, captured by the Japs after he toured the Tokyo airways with General Doolittle.

She never knew he was going to Tokyo. Even when he wrote her encouraging words to settle her fears, he didn't tell her his destination. When her boss at the Board of Economic Warfare brought her the White House news that her son may have been killed by the Japs, she almost collapsed.

This Tokyo flyer's mother stands tall and strong but she looks as though she's just a lot of sleep. She's a hazel-eyed brunette with a soft southern voice. It's not easy for her to face the fact that she won't know definitely whether her boy is alive until the war is over. She doesn't pretend that it is easy, but her spirit inspires her to say "No matter what has happened to my son, I know he has served a wonderful purpose in the war."

Before she came to Washington from Darlington, S. C., Mrs. Farrow found defense work hard and wondered about the use of it all. She wrote her son about it and he replied:

Mrs. Jessie S. Farrow and her son, Lt. William Farrow.

"This old world is controlled by laws and so is reason. For every action there is reaction. Set yourself to do something and if you're strong enough, it will be done." Another time, Lieutenant Farrow said: "Mother, remember you are helping in national defense and that nothing is too much for us to do for our country." Her constant confidence in her son's bravery, boosts her own courage to high that she can declare:

"Because the Japs are barbarians is no reason that we should become barbarians; we should do as the President says, wait until we can take it out on the war lords."

But she also insists, as she thinks of her only son, that "the spirit of vengeance aroused among America's air fighters won't be forgotten until its objective is accomplished."

Homes Constructed Under F. H. A. Plan

Washington, May 8—Construction was started during April on approximately 13,400 privately-financed family units for immigrant war-worker families under the insured mortgage program of the Federal Housing Administration, F.H.A. Commissioner Abner H. Ferguson announced today.

This figure represents a 63 per cent increase over the 8,200 new accommodations started by private builders operating under the F.H.A. program during March, and 107 per cent more than the 6,499 units started in February. Approximately 85 per cent of all privately-financed war housing is now being insured by the F.H.A.

Mr. Ferguson pointed out that occupancy of all housing now being constructed is restricted to immigrant war-worker families under the war housing program of the National Housing Agency, of which F.H.A. is an operating unit.

The application for insured mortgage financing received by the F.H.A. during January involved 9,068 family units, in February, 12,587, in March 18,900, and in April, 18,550.

The volume of war housing being constructed under the F.H.A. program is considerably less than a year ago. During the first four months of 1943 construction was started on 34,700 new dwelling units, compared with the 60,170 units started during the same period in 1942.

Meanwhile, increased effort is being made to stimulate the construction of existing structures for war workers and their families under the homes use program of the N.H.A. Under F.H.A. Title I, property owners can obtain loans up to $5,000, repayable in monthly installments over periods up to seven years.

Continued cannon fire has been heard 100 miles from the scene of the drive.

Chickens in the Yard

Mean Eggs and Meat

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Features

Washington—The war boom may not put "a chicken in every pot" but a lot more people are going to become better acquainted with chickens on the hoof. The meat-raising pinch has caused a big increase in backyard chicken raising. Requests for information on poultry tending are pouring into the Department of Agriculture at a rate more than double that of pre-war days.

Keeping a small Victory flock of chickens for fresh eggs and poultry meat is a good way for families in small towns and the suburbs of cities to augment their food supplies. This year there has been a heavy trend to broiler raising.

Government poultry specialists estimate that 15 hens and 50 other chickens for meat and replacement purposes will produce 372 pounds of solid food in a year. Eighty pounds would be

Armstrong Wins In Sixty Seconds

Knocks Out Tom Jessup in Boston Garden

Boston, May 8 (AP)—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, the only triple champion in boxing history, today hastened toward the next stop-off place on his sensational comeback tour, leaving behind the wreckage of the ambitious hopes of Tommy Jessup of Springfield.

After warming up by shadow boxing in his dressing room for 20 minutes at the Boston Garden last night, the crafty Armstrong generated such fierce heat that he knocked out Jessup in 60 seconds flat in what was scheduled as a 10-round bout.

Jessup, who had flattened all but three of his previous 27 opponents in speedy fashion, was unable to lay a glove on the former ruler of three divisions.

Armstrong, who appeared to be as fit as he was before his retirement, weighed 140, two pounds more than the over-matched Jessup.

Maroons Play At Home Today

Scheduled to Oppose Port Jervis Nine

Kingston High School baseball team was scheduled to play its third game of the season today, starting at 2 p. m., on the municipal stadium diamond.

Opposition in this DUSO League match was to be furnished by Port Jervis and the Maroons hoped to trim the Red Raiders for their second victory so far. Middletown fell victim to Kingston after the locals had dropped a decision to New York Military Academy in Cornwall.

Track and Field Meet

New York, May 8 (AP)—Two hundred and 30 athletes, representing seven New York city colleges, will decide the metropolitan inter-collegiate track and field title today with New York University a top-heavy favorite.

Tests Throw Light on Spacing of Sweet Corn

Geneva, N. Y.—Sweet corn growers who have not been satisfied with the yields of the early yellow hybrid varieties will be interested in the results of spacing experiments carried on by the Experiment Station here for the past several years. The tests involved six different spacing practices and show the effect of spacing on yield, maturity, and other plant characters. The results of the tests for the first four years are given in Bulletin No. 700 which may be obtained upon request to the Experiment Station.

Seneca Golden, an early variety, and Tendergold, a second early sort, were used for the experiment with Golden Cross, a main season variety, grown for comparison. The planting distances included 30 and 36-inch check rows with three plants per hill, 30 and 36-inch rows with the plants spaced 12 inches apart in the row, and 30 and 36-inch rows with the plants 9 inches apart in the row.

Based on the average yields for the four years, Seneca Golden gave the highest return when planted in rows 30 inches apart with the plants 9 inches apart. Tendergold gave the best average yield when planted either in 30 or 36-inch rows with the plants spaced 12 inches apart. In comparison the highest average yield for Golden Cross was obtained when planted in 36-inch rows with the plants 12 inches apart, although this yield was not significantly higher than that from four of the five other spacing practices. Planting Golden Cross in 30-inch rows with the plants only 9 inches apart in the row significantly decreased the yield. Maximum planting distances for this variety, however, did not come within the scope of this experiment.

All three varieties produced the most two-eared plants when grown in 36-inch check rows, while the rate of maturity for all varieties was most rapid when the corn was planted in 36-inch rows with the plants 12 inches apart and in 36-inch check rows. A table is included in the bulletin for determining the amount of seed required per acre for a given spacing practice, according to the size of the seed and the percentage germination. This will aid in conserving seed and in insuring a satisfactory stand for the desired planting distance.

Newburgh Academy Defeats Maroon Track Team 64 to 49

Kingston Slumps in Field Events, After Doing Well in Running and Jumping

Friday afternoon, Kingston High School track team dropped the first meet of the 1943 season to Newburgh Free Academy, 64-49. The Maroon team held the Goldbacks, even throughout the running and jumping events, but saw their slim margin shattered when the returns of the field events were announced.

Star of the K.H.S. team was Bud Gildersleeve who was responsible for two of the five first places taken by the local trackmen. In winning the broad jump, "Gully" missed by a hair, shattering the high school record of 22 ft. 2 1/2 in. as he cleared 22 ft. 2 in. In addition to this, he led the field in the 100 yard dash with a time of 10.3 sec. The other Kingston high firsts were accounted for by Bud Rafferty in the hurdles, Tom Coughlin in the high jump, and Bill Fitzgerald in the one-half mile.

The mile run proved to be the most exciting race of the afternoon, as Neumont Culver and Bob Mosher, both of Kingston, finished in a dead heat for first place. Culver led the field throughout the final lap, but in the backstretch, Mosher gave a terrific kick and finished in a tie for top honors, after having been in third spot through the rest of the race.

The Maroons pulled another surprise in the mile vault, as Fred Dressell cleared 10 ft. 3 in. nine inches better than his top practice height for a tie for second place in that event, which was counted on as a clear sweep for the N.E.A. vaulters.

Kingston's need for men in the field events was shown clearly by the total score for the javelin, shot and discus, Newburgh, 21, Kingston, 6. The Goldbacks secured their 15-point margin of victory in those events.

Coaches Kias and Connick will have several rough spots to iron out before the team takes the field against Cornwall next Friday.

The Score: 100 yard dash: First, Gildersleeve (K); second, Politi (N); third, Ortale (N). Time: 10.3 seconds.

880 yard: First, Fitzgerald (K); second, Caverly (N); third, Burr (K). Time: 2 min. 14.2 sec.

1 mile: Tie for first, Culver and Mosher (K); third, Paglen (N). Time: 4 min. 56.3 sec.

High jump: First, Coughlin (K); tie for second, Sherlock (K) and Victor (N). Height: 5 ft. 4 in.

Object of Great Attention

Tigers Await Wakefield Payoff Punch

By WATSON SPOELSTRA

Detroit—Richard Cummings Wakefield stands apart in baseball because of the record bonus he received for his signature. Now the Detroit Tigers are standing by to see if he'll make good.

If he hadn't been able to hit a baseball so far, Wakefield would be just another senior at the University of Michigan this year put in his last links on a diploma. Instead, he is regular left fielder of the Tigers and the object of great attention as the possible rookie of the year.

Wakefield's father, Howard, was a major league catcher a quarter century ago, and Dick, the second of our sons born at Chicago, had a way about him in handling and hitting a baseball. So dad Wakefield spent much time with Dick. Dick was a catcher in high school, but at Michigan, where former major league pitcher Ray Fisher is coach, he was shifted to the outfield, largely because Michigan already had a pretty good catcher. As a right fielder, Wakefield battled Michigan to the western conference title.

With each booming homer, Wakefield increased his tremendous following of major league scouts to the point where the ivory hunters often outnumbered the paying customers. Dick told them all he wasn't much interested, not just then anyway.

Before Michigan captured the Big Ten crown, Howard Wakefield died, and in the weeks that followed Dick and his mother, Mrs. Frances Wakefield, arrived at the decision that baseball would come first. Dick goes back to school in off seasons.

When school was out two years ago, Wakefield packed his bag and his big bat and toured big league parks to peddle his wares—from Detroit to Cleveland to Cincinnati to Chicago. Each time he belted a fancy assortment of pitches into the stands, and wild bidding for his services naturally developed.

DICK WAKEFIELD
Plenty of Power in Swing

Finally, on June 21, 1941, Wakefield signed with Detroit for a $52,000 bonus (plus a new automobile thrown in by owner Walter O. Briggs, millionaire automotive executive). Mrs. Wakefield handled the affairs as Dick was then barely 20 years old. They paid $23,000 to Uncle Sam in taxes.

Wakefield, a big grinning kid two inches over the six foot mark and 190 pounds, was with the Tigers for six weeks after signing. Del Baker, then Detroit's manager, sent him in seven times as pinch-hitter at the return of one single.

The high priced youngster then was sent to Winston-Salem, N. C., of the Piedmont league where in 55 late season games he batted an even .300. With 61 hits he drove in 28 runs for a cellar club.

Last summer, in his first full year in organized ball, he jumped onto the Texas league where he battled Beaumont to the seasonal championship under Steve O'Neill, present Tiger manager. Dick won the batting championship at .345, drove in 90 runs with 192 hits and was named the league's most valuable player.

With the Tigers, Wakefield wears uniform No. 2, the numeral the great Charley Gehringer carried in his long and illustrious career here.

On the field, Wakefield looks like a carbon copy of Ted Williams. He has an easy left-handed stance at the plate. He throws right-handed and has a strong arm. The nickname of "Whilaway" grows out of his speed.

Off the field, he looks like any other college boy, except that he puffs on long cigars. He is exceedingly popular with his teammates, particularly among veterans such as Rudy York, Pinky Higgins and Roger Cramer. Dick is pretty slick on the billiards table, where he often hooks up with pitcher Hal White, Tiger cue classification because he is the ace.

Wakefield holds a 3-A draft classification because he is the sole support of his mother and youngest brother. The other two boys are in the armed service.

Johnny Allen Is Perfect Dodger Relief Pitcher

Pulls Brooklyn Club Out of Fire After Braves Slam Two Other Moundsmen

By The Associated Press

Branch Rickey has made some shrewd deals but none probably ever was more timely than the one he engineered in bringing Johnny Allen back to the Dodgers after disposing of him in one of his first official acts as head of the Brooklyn club.

Although the 37-year-old right hander had a 1942 record of 10 wins and 6 losses, after succeeding Lieut. Col. Larry S. MacPhail as head man of the Dodgers, lost little time sending Allen and $30,000 to Philadelphia for the much younger Rube Melton.

Allen declined to sign with the Phillies. Then, five days before the opening of the season, in a deal that never has been fully explained, Rickey summoned the baseball writers to his Montague street office in Brooklyn and announced the Dodgers had re-purchased Allen.

The records show how smart that deal was. When Johnny went into yesterday's game with the Boston Braves in the seventh with the score deadlocked it marked his third relief appearance of the season. He pitched shutout ball for three innings as his mates went on to club out a 9 to 0 victory, and gave Allen his third straight success.

In eight innings of relief hurling, Allen was given up only eight hits, three to the Phils in 2 2/3 innings, two to the Giants in 2 1/3 and three yesterday. Prior to Allen's appearance the Braves had clubbed the offerings of Ed Head and Les Webber after the Brooklynites had showed across five runs in the second, three on Augie Galan's homer.

Johnson almost matched that with a two-run homer for Boston in the third.

Reds Beat Cubs

With the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates kept busy by the weather, the Cincinnati Reds were given to the National League's runner-up spot, two and one-half games back of the Dodgers. They nosed out the Chicago Cubs 5 to 4 as Johnny Vander Meer received help from "Fireman" Joe Beggis in registering his fourth pitching triumph.

The other National League game saw the Phillies go on their biggest scoring spree of the season behind the five-hit pitching of Venable Johnson. With Jimmy Wastell driving in six runs on a homer, triple and single, the Phils blasted three Giant hurlers for 13 hits to win 13 to 3.

Rookies Stand Out

A pair of rookies, Charley Wessloff and Bill Winkler, of the New York Yankees, took their fifth straight victory, a 6 to 2 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics. Wessloff, who won 21 games with the Tanks' Kansas City Farm Club last season, pitched shutout ball for six innings.

Johnson, up from Newark in the international circuit, drove three runs across the plate with his first Major League homer in the fourth to run his hitting streak to eight straight games. Then, after hitting a double, he for Naught, he grounded another run across the platter with a single in the seventh.

Johnny Humphries outpointed Hal White in a ten-inning pitching duel as the Chicago White Sox edged out a 1-0 decision over the Detroit Tigers. Humphries, himself, brought home the only run, after leading off with a walk, and moving up to second on a sacrifice. Duke Appling produced the game winning hit—a double to left center.

Shadow Bowling Is Product of War

Permits Twice as Many Bowlers to Roll

Chicago, May 8 (AP)—Pretty Betty Nelson took up her best bowling stance and prepared to throw. Attractive Jeanie Wayne stood alongside as though taking a lesson.

Betty began her run. But horrors, Jeanie did too. Both balls dropped smoothly on the alley and trundled down the polished lane almost side by side.

Betty's ball reached the pins first and hit the pocket, but there wasn't enough force to spill all the wood on the left side. Then Jeanie's ball crashed in, cleaning up the surviving maples.

Strike! No it isn't—it's a spare. This is shadow-bowling, and the scoring system is different.

Shadow-bowling is a product of the war, it permits twice the normal number of contestants to compete, in half the normal time—and it's fun, too.

The game was dreamed up by Jack Miehl, an executive at the Douglas aircraft plant. They call it shadow-bowling because it's as if a girl and her shadow were competing. Miehl has copyrighted the feature.

The combination scores are always higher than the girls could roll individually. Betty and Jeanie each used to average just a little over 100. Together they always click off a 120 and often better.

Then Betty goes home. "Got a 145 tonight, mom," she says happily. "The same enthusiastic words ring out in the Wayne house."

Only the pinboy is unhappy. "More work," he grunts, wrestling with two balls in the pit. "Just a victim of the speedup."

Count Fleet Is 1-5 Preakness Choice

Is Expected to Repeat in Derby Performance

Baltimore, Md., May 8 (AP)—Count Fleet attempted today to do what only seven horses before him have done—win the $50,000-added Preakness stakes after coming home first in the Kentucky Derby.

And the crowd, which was expected to reach 35,000, was confident he could do it—so confident that in the early waning Mrs. John D. Hertz's bawling hurricane was 1-4 or 1-5 choice to romp in ahead of three other colts likely to start against him.

An off track was in prospect for the 53rd running of Maryland's most famous race, scheduled to go to post at 2:40 p. m. (EWT).

Named to oppose the Count—and incidentally try for $10,000 in second money—were Allen T. Simmons' Blue Swords, second in the Derby; W. L. Brann's Vincennes and H. L. Simon's New Moon, both homebred; and Isidore Bieber's Radio Morale, although the latter entry appeared today to be purely technical.
